About

A Moonshot Mars-shot Open Source Conference

Open Camps is a mission-driven collection of open source technology conferences & events.

Open Camps will be one of the largest open source conferences in the world, as we host 6,000+ developers at 25+ conferences & events, featuring hundreds of sessions on dozens of technologies.

We've been able to bring Open Camps together as a result of a broad & bold collaboration between the United Nations Open Source Innovation Initiative (Unite Open Source) and multiple open source communities. Open camps run on a not-for-profit basis by a team of open source community volunteers. We're grateful for the support of the United Nations, the generosity of our partners, and the volunteer teams that make Open Camps possible.

For more information please contact us at info@opencamps.org or 212 203 8052.

Partnerships

Open Camps is made possible thanks to the support of our generous partners.

We strive to deliver excellent value to all Open Camps partners, and can tailor a package to provide the best possible exposure for your budget.

Highlights include:

- 6,000+ attendees at 25+ events
- Partner Pavilions both weekend (Jul 9/10 & 16/17)
- Talent fairs on Sat Jul 9 & Sat Jul 16
- Labs rooms for platform providers
